

Judge LeRoy McCullough Receives Samuel E. Kelly Award

On Saturday, October 29, 2011, the University of Washington Alumni Association held its annual Multicultural Alumni Partnership 'Bridging the Gap' Breakfast.

The Multicultural Alumni Partnership began in 1995 to promote diversity within the Alumni Association and the University community. The club sponsors the annual 'Bridging the Gap' Breakfast to honor alumni who have made a positive impact on their communities. An award named for Samuel E Kelly, who came to the UW in 1970 as the founding Vice-President for Minority Affairs, is presented at the breakfast.

At the 2011 event, the Samuel E Kelly Award was given to King County Superior Court Judge LeRoy McCullough. Judge McCullough, who received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the UW in 1972 and his Juris Doctor degree from the UW in 1975, joined the King County Superior Court bench in 1989.

Dignitaries in attendance for the award presentation included U.S. Congressman Jim McDermott and King County Superior Court Presiding Judge Richard McDermott.

Congratulations to Judge McCullough!
